

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the position of Co-founder Mobile Application Developer at your startup. As an experienced and passionate programmer, I am thrilled at the opportunity to contribute my skills and drive to help bring your vision to life.

With a BSc. in Software Engineering and a diverse range of experience across web, native Android, and iOS mobile development, I am well-equipped to take on the challenges of this role. My expertise extends to cross-platform development using React Native, enabling me to deliver high-quality mobile applications that provide exceptional user experiences.

What sets me apart is my proactive approach to critical thinking and problem-solving. I actively engage in discussions about the future of development, consistently sharing my insights and contributing to technical decisions. Whether collaborating within a team or working independently, I am known for my adaptability and dedication to delivering top-notch results.

I invite you to review my resume, which highlights my educational background and technical proficiencies, demonstrating my ability to design and implement scalable backend architectures, databases, and APIs. Additionally, you can explore my GitHub profile, where you will find a portfolio of projects showcasing my expertise across various technologies.

As a co-founder, I fully embrace the entrepreneurial spirit and the challenges that come with building a startup from the ground up. My passion for technology and innovation, combined with my commitment to continuous learning, make me a perfect fit for this role. I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your company's growth and success.

Thank you for considering my application. I would welcome the chance to discuss further how my skills and experience align with your startup's goals. Please find my contact information below.

Sincerely,

Orel Zilberman
